

Geographies of Health and Wellbeing Research Group (GHWRG)

Who we are

The GHWRG offers a lively and supportive network for all those interested in research in the geography of health and health care, medical geography, and any other area of research related to health and well-being.

The PG Reps are:

Chloe Asker (C.Asker@exeter.ac.uk)

Louise Mitchell
(l.mitchell8@edu.salford.ac.uk)

What we do

Our main activities include:

- Creating a visible geographies of health and wellbeing community through interactive online engagement and projects such as #GHWRGjournneys
- Bringing national and international researchers together by organizing events, workshops and meetings
- Supporting postgraduates and early career researchers through a bi-annual conference called ENRGHI
- Communicating news and events through our website and twitter account

How to get involved

Contact the postgrad reps to enquire about becoming a member.

Website

<https://ghwrg.wordpress.com/>

Twitter

@Geoghealth

Mailing list

Join by going to www.jiscmail.ac.uk and search for GHWRG

Come along to one of our sponsored sessions at the RGS conference or other events held during the year. Info on our website.