

GENDER AND FEMINIST GEOGRAPHIES RESEARCH GROUP

About

The Gender and Feminist Geographies Research Group (GFGRG) aims to encourage the study of the geographical implications of gender inequalities in society and geographical research from a feminist perspective, encourage and facilitate the exchange of information and ideas with reference to research and teaching in these areas, and disseminate information through its publications.

Aims

- To encourage the study of the geographical implications of gender (and other forms of intersecting differentiation) in society and the discipline of geography.
- To promote feminist research perspectives.
- To support and raise the profile of women in the discipline.
- To support research and teaching of the above within and beyond the academy.
- To promote gender equality across the discipline of geography through fostering dialogue and engagement with a variety of publics.

Where to find us

Membership: <https://www.rgs.org/research/research-groups/>

Website: <https://gfgrg.co.uk>

Email list: GFGRG@JISCMAIL.AC.UK

Twitter: @GFG\_RGSIBG

Facebook: Gender and Feminist Geographies Research Group

WHAT ARE OUR MEMBERS WORKING ON?

- Student mobilities, migration and higher education
- Paid domestic labour and care work
- Geographies of fertility, reproduction and family planning
- Emotional geographies
- Tourism
- Geographies of the body
- Immigration detention and asylum
- Displacement and resettlement
- Subcultures

Get to know us!

<https://gfgrg.co.uk/who-we-are-2>

Postgraduate Committee Members

Olivia Engle, Birkbeck (@OliviaPEngle, oengle01@mail.bbk.ac.uk)

Alex Kendrick, Liverpool (@alexjkendrick, psakendr@liverpool.ac.uk)