

Social and Cultural Geography Research Group

WHO WE ARE

The SCGRG embraces researchers and activists interested in the way the world works to produce social and cultural difference, engaging with key social science debates concerning identity, subjectivity, citizenship and belonging.

WHAT WE DO

The group promotes social and cultural geographies through regular events including sessions at the RGS-IBG Annual Conference and a variety of other conferences on contemporary issues in social and cultural geography.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

Becoming a member is a fantastic way to build relationships with researchers at all career stages from across the sub-discipline, as well as to stay informed about projects, conferences and training opportunities. The benefits of membership include: support for session organisation; the ability to apply for SCGRG grants for events and more.
